Building an Admission Review Dismissal (ARD) Foundation with Facilitation Skills with Anissa Moore, M.Ed, BCBA

This intensive two-day training prepares Admission Review and Dismissal/ Individualized Education Program (ARD/IEP) team members with the strategies for conducting ARD/IEP meetings so that conflict is reduced and the focus remains on the student. In this session, participants use hands-on activities, simulated ARD/IEP meetings, and coaching to learn the critical attributes of conflict resolution and IEP meeting facilitation such as:

- Use of facilitation skills to make meetings run smoothly, efficiently, and collaboratively
- Use of an Action Plan focusing on student needs, and on timely and efficient IEP implementation
- Elimination of stressful power struggles, non-productive emotional conflicts, and “them vs. us” attitude
- Flexible problem-solving
- Application of active listening techniques to the meeting process in order to build shared understanding and small agreements
