

A USDA certified vet inspects the Living Science facilities twice a year to ensure the quality care and health of the animals we have available.

Their expertise provides guidance to Living Science in providing healthy and safe animals for teachers' to use in the classroom.