Click on “Recommended Reads”, and you’ll find browsable, high-interest book lists on a variety of topics. In addition, school media specialists can create and annotate their own lists using “My Book Lists” and share them with other teachers and librarians throughout their district. Other editorial content provided by NoveList Plus includes multiple award lists and feature articles.

All of these features contribute to making NoveList Plus a great resource for finding books that kids of all ages will enjoy.
NoveList® K-8 Plus is the ideal solution for elementary or middle schools who prefer more age-appropriate materials in their reading resource. This resource features a new, more visually-appealing interface designed especially for kids. NoveList® K-8 Plus provides information on more than 17,000 nonfiction titles specifically chosen to support curriculum standards and to provide engaging nonfiction reading.

Teachers, school media specialists and students can now browse an age-appropriate database of information on more than 53,000 fiction and 17,000 nonfiction titles. In addition, NoveList K-8 Plus features the same simple, yet powerful search feature found in NoveList Plus. Search for fiction and/or nonfiction titles – or search the entire database of books, book lists, BookTalks, Award Winners, and articles all at once!

Browse “Recommended Reads”, and you’ll have access to 300 high-interest book lists organized by reading level for readers and non-readers alike. All of these features combine to create a powerful reading resource for teachers, school media specialists, parents and kids.
